Product Description

Product Description:

The VW Ceramic Brake Pad Kit is an essential component for maintaining the performance and safety of your Volkswagen vehicle. This high-quality Volkswagen Brake Pad Set Assembly is designed as an OEM Replacement, ensuring compatibility and optimal functionality. Constructed from ceramic material, these brake pads offer superior durability and reliability compared to conventional options. The ceramic composition provides excellent heat resistance, reducing brake fade and ensuring consistent braking performance even under demanding driving conditions.

With a Factory No of ZK-01006, this Volkswagen Brake Pad Set Assembly includes 4 pieces, offering a complete solution for replacing the brake pads on all four wheels of your vehicle. This comprehensive set is designed to meet the exact specifications of your Volkswagen model, guaranteeing a perfect fit and seamless integration with the existing braking system.

While not slotted, these brake pads are engineered to provide optimal friction and braking efficiency without compromising on comfort or safety. The smooth surface of the pads ensures quiet operation and minimal vibration, enhancing the overall driving experience for you and your passengers.

Investing in the VW Ceramic Brake Pad Kit is a smart choice to maintain the performance and reliability of your Volkswagen vehicle. By opting for this Volkswagen Brake Pad Set Assembly, you can enjoy peace of mind knowing that your brakes are equipped with high-quality components designed to deliver consistent and dependable stopping power.
